

e 2 0
u 1 8
· a t

The New Student: Flexible Learning Paths and Future Learning Environments

Higher Education Expert Conference
Date: 20-21 September 2018, Vienna/Austria

 Federal Ministry
Republic of Austria
Education, Science and Research

Registration

Due to limited space available, priority will be given to those who register early.

Topic

The student population has changed significantly in recent years. As a consequence, higher education institutions and policy frameworks are challenged to adapt to the new needs of students and society.

Our core question is: How can flexible learning in higher education contribute to this change and what does this mean for higher education systems in Europe?

We will discuss current trends in European higher education systems as well as innovative and sustainable examples of strategy and policy implementation by learning from key note speakers, good practices and intense discussions in breakout sessions. Moreover, we will deal with the question on how national governments and the European Union can assist in this task.

Please do not make any travel arrangements until you have received the formal registration confirmation including the link to the obligatory accreditation procedure. The conference organisation follows the criteria of the Austrian Ecolabel for Green Meetings.

The conference addresses

- Policy-makers from the field of higher education
- Representatives of higher education institutions (students, academic staff, non-teaching staff, management)
- Higher education stakeholders

Registration/Contact

Due to limited space available, priority will be given to those who register early.

For pre-registration and further information, please send an e-mail to TheNewStudent.eu.2018@bmbwf.gv.at

The extended deadline to pre-register is 14 September 2018.

